

Crow Island Wildlife Area Manager's Update

2015 Season - Week of 9/20

Weather

Cool weather and some rain kept the units at full pool or higher than last week.

Waterfowl Abundance

The early season ducks are starting to come in but have not been pushed into the refuge at this time. We have more birds on the open areas than the refuge.

Hunting Conditions

This coming fall, waterfowl hunters can expect good water levels in all units. We have a large amount of milfoil and lily pads. Lily pads are starting to die. This will hamper motors until the cold weather kills it off.

Hunter Numbers

N/A

Waterfowl Harvest

N/A

What To Expect This Week

Stable temperatures in the 70s are expected this week. Bird numbers should begin to increase on the area as well as the refuge.

Upcoming Events

An open house is scheduled for September 30th at 6pm for hunters to get the most up to date field conditions, information on local projects completed this year.

Other Comments

N/A

